

Author's Note

The website is an archive of both the theoretical research portion as well as the design proposal part of a year-long master thesis project, conceived in 2026 within the Studio of Architecture II at the Academy of Arts, Architecture and Design in Prague.

Given the necessary limitations of the inquiry, the final outcome of my endeavour only manages to (circum)navigate a rather narrow sliver of an otherwise vast and ever-evolving field of study. The thesis retains a notable level of subjectivity, and its orientation stems from my architectural studies at an art academy. Therefore, the resulting work, to my understanding, is more of a piece of independent artistic research rather than a thorough and historically apt deep dive into impeccably layered phenomena.